MOTION FOR STATEMENT OF JURISDICTION

Comes now, Denny-Ray: Hardin, sui juris to motion the court to state it's true jurisdiction, within the "15 Statues at large". The court may hear a claim that the "Indictment" fails to envoke the court's jurisdiction, Rule 12 (b) (3) (B) as a Motion alleging a defect in the "Indictment". Defendant requested a true statement of the Court's Jurisdiction on May 10th and again on May 13th and the court failed to state its jurisdiction. Defendant has the right to a court of proper jurisdiction or a dismissal for lack of jurisdiction.
